As at 30 September 2022. This chart shows the relative performance in percentage terms between RWGIF Institutional GBP Share Class CA net of all fees since inception and the Markit iBoxx GBP Corporate Total Return Index (IYDU) over the same time period. Performance data quoted represents past performance; past performance does not guarantee future results. The investment return and principal value of an investment will fluctuate so that an investor's shares, when redeemed, may be worth more or less than their original cost. Current performance of the fund may be lower or higher than the performance quoted. Source: Bloomberg

Portfolio Strategy

The Fund invests in a diversified pool of high-yielding corporate bonds and preference shares issued in the main by listed large-cap institutions, and asset-backed securities. All the Fund's investments are listed on at least one major exchange. The Fund aims to deliver a gross income (ex capital appreciation), of 5.5% annually, either paid in semi-annual instalments or reinvested in the Fund at investors' discretion. The Fund's assets can be denominated in a number of different currencies but are predominantly in GBP, USD and EUR. Currency exposure across non-GBP assets is hedged back into GBP and non-GBP share classes are hedged back into their base currencies on a rolling monthly basis. The Fund may take on a limited amount of leverage via derivatives and may invest in large cap high-yielding equities, but currently exercises neither of these options.

Manager's Commentary

September turned out to be a terrible month for financial markets. A grim confluence of political and economic circumstances combined to send equity markets tumbling (S&P -9%, FTSE -5%) and bond markets across the board had a torrid time. The Fund fell by 4.8%, whilst the £ investment grade index we look at fell by a massive 8.75%. There were two main negative drivers in the fixed income space. Firstly, the Fed doubled down on its hawkish stance on interest rates as it tries to bear down on stubborn US inflation. This had a big knock-on effect on all global Govt bond markets and naturally spilled over into the wider debt markets. It's also provoked a huge rally in the value of the US dollar against all major currencies, which brings with it its own set of problems. The second driver, uniquely, came from the hapless new administration in the UK. The announcement of a slew of unfunded tax cuts alongside a very expensive energy price cap for households and businesses sent bond market participants running for the hills, causing a massive spike in UK Govt yields and a big drop in the British pound on the foreign exchanges. There were also significant problems caused in the long end of the sterling curve as pension funds were hit with margin calls on their long-term derivative holdings. Although an uneasy calm has returned to the Gilt market, some irreparable political damage has been done and an unwelcome rift has opened up between the Government and the Bank of England. As highlighted in recent reports we see no reason to alter the short-term strategy of the Fund in these challenging times.

Investment Team

30 September 2022

Jonathan Kendall - Jonathan has 30 years of experience in the fixed income markets. Between 1989 and 2014 he performed institutional fixed income sales roles for a variety of investment banks, including PaineWebber, Bear Stearns, Nomura and Commerzbank, where he was Head of Sales for the Nordic region until 2014. He has extensive knowledge of all aspects of the debt markets across multiple currencies and jurisdictions, ranging from Government Bonds to Credit, Structured Credit and Asset-Backed Securities. From 2014 onwards he has been managing discretionary and advisory fixed income portfolios for UHNW individuals, specialising in Credit.

George Lucan - George brings 30 years experience of the public and private debt markets. Beginning his career in 1989 at Kleinwort Benson Limited as a credit analyst, he moved on to develop leveraged structured products for the public debt and equity markets. Leaving in 1999 as Head of UK and European structured finance, he moved on to help launch, along with two principals from Perry Capital, Bailey Coates LLP's Cromwell Fund, a long-short equity strategy managing gross assets of $2 billion, where he headed up a team of 12 research professionals. He resigned in 2005 to develop Middle East Structured Finance Associates focussed on developing ethical and/or Islamic compliant public and private debt instruments funds in the project finance space. In 2015 he returned to hedge funds at Rudolf Wolff.
