Portfolio Strategy

The Fund invests in a diversified pool of high-yielding corporate bonds and preference shares issued in the main by listed large-cap institutions, and asset-backed securities. All the Fund's investments are listed on at least one major exchange. The Fund aims to deliver a gross income (ex capital appreciation), of 5.5% annually, either paid in semi-annual instalments or reinvested in the Fund at investors' discretion. The Fund's assets can be denominated in a number of different currencies but are predominantly in GBP, USD and EUR. Currency exposure across non-GBP assets is hedged back into GBP and non-GBP share classes are hedged back into their base currencies on a rolling monthly basis. The Fund may take on a limited amount of leverage via derivatives and may invest in large cap high-yielding equities, but currently exercises neither of these options.

Manager's Commentary

After a bright start to the month the Fund ended flat, which in the context of what happened to other asset classes during the period is creditable. Investment Grade Credit indices, more closely linked to Govt debt, had a terrible month, and most Equity and Commodity markets fell sharply in the latter part of the month. The energy crisis sweeping across continental Europe is having far-reaching economic effects with Russia's increasingly aggressive weaponisation of gas supplies is forcing Governments to reach for the lever marked borrowing in order to subsidise prices and prevent widespread industrial collapse and domestic fuel poverty. This in itself pushes up longer-term interest rates, quite apart from what action on short-term rates Central Banks deem necessary. The risk is that having been asleep at the wheel for so long they may now go for the knee-jerk overreaction. It remains to be seen for how long these very high levels of inflation persist, as second-order effects kick in (for example much higher public sector wage demands), however it is still encouraging that most commodity prices remain well off their (albeit elevated) peaks, and that includes natural gas. We continue to keep duration in the Fund relatively short, a strategy which has served us well during the turbulence of the last few years.
