GBP Dividend Reinvestment B Shares

RWIF vs STOXX 600, Oil Majors Index

In this chart we compare the fund to the Stoxx 600 and the BI Global Oil Majors index, against the Rudolf Wolff Income Fund GBP Dividend Reinvestment B Shares. As can be seen all oil related stocks have been extraordinarily depressed in the current price environment and given the Fund's slight over-weighting in that sector, this has held back the recovery of the fund versus broader equities. However, we believe these prices do not represent the very low default risk present and instead show the considerable potential for uplift in the coming months.

As at 31 March 2022 data quoted represents past performance and does not guarantee future results. The investment return and principal value of an investment will fluctuate so that an investor's shares, when redeemed, may be worth more or less than their original cost. Current performance of the Fund may be lower or higher than the performance quoted. Data for the Fund shown are Net of Charges 01/10/19 to 31/03/22.

Portfolio Strategy

Invest in a weighted portfolio of income bearing financial instruments, preference shares and debt instruments issued by bank's, building societies and insurance/assurance groups, as well as general corporate debt. The Funds Bond strategy is designed to produce an attractive rate of income whilst maintaining the underlying asset value of investment. It may possibly suit those of your clients who are looking for higher returns than currently being offered by standard bank or building society deposit accounts. The income is distributed bi-annually, at the end of March and September. Investors may elect to have the income reinvested. The Fund does not at present utilise any leverage but may use limited leverage in the future. Currently approximately 69% of the Funds bond portfolio is in GBP issues, 28% in USD, and 3% in SEK.

Fund Commentary

The Fund recovered a little in March, as indeed did most markets. In Ukraine the intensity and scale of Russian attacks has diminished somewhat, and a negotiated solution appears a little closer, even if still a far-off prospect. March was a busy month for The Fund - a number of our bonds paid their coupons and we also had one large position maturing. That position was yielding approximately 6% and we've already been able to reinvest some of those proceeds at a substantially higher blended yield. This reinforces our strategy of ensuring we have plenty of short-dated assets in the Fund - it enables us to reinvest longer-term at substantially higher yields in times of market stress. The gap between most corporate bond yields and short-term interest rates (and Govt bond yields) has widened meaningfully this year and there are some very interesting high-yielding opportunities out there which help cushion the impact of high inflation.
